Introduction

Institutions have to operate in a changing environment. Requirements - and the people who deliver business - keep changing.

Organisations have to ensure that business requirements and leading practice are continuously communicated to stakeholders. Learning and continuous education programmes are a cornerstone to achieve this goal.

As technology evolves and with the prevalence of the internet, social media and mobile technology, eLearning - learning using technology as a platform - has become an industry standard. eLearning reaches all stakeholders and provides a learning environment that is both consistent and personal. eLearning is increasingly interactive, enabling two-way communication between users and instructors.

Keypoint has designed an eLearning platform based on the latest technology that can be used to deliver industry-leading training to stakeholders across your organisation.

Learning Point

Keypoint's simple yet powerful e-learning platform delivers quality learning opportunities on the go. We offer both cloud-based (hosted at Keypoint's datacenter) and on-site arrangements.

We also provide on-site learning, customised with clients' branding including logos and corporate colours.

Learning Point can be used with a vast range of training courses. We have developed some leading practice courses that can be pre-configured on Learning Point including:

- Common reporting standards (CRS)
